Programme Objectives

Due to the tighten credit market and the robust demand on financing, especially for real estate developers and SME companies, lots of shallow banks (trusts and illegal finance company) have underwritten synthetic financial products to meet the financing needs in the market. Moreover, due to the over expanding traditional credit market in China, lots of non-performing loans ("NPLs") have appeared in the bank balance sheet. To handle the issues of bad debt in China, the China government imposes new measures to convert the bad debt to equity stake held by banks. Asset Management of NPLs becomes a hot topic again.

This programme provides an in-depth knowledge of the nature of non-performing loans & assets in China and the respective ways to realize the underlying value of the non-performing loans & assets after acquisition.
