Overview

"Fintech" is an amalgam of the terms, "finance" and "technology". It refers to innovation in the financial industry. By leveraging technology, it allows businesses to become much more efficient. However, at the same time, with the ever-changing regulatory regime and tightening anti-money laundering ("AML") requirements, how can a Fintech company survive without breaching any relevant rules and regulations? This is the topic that we are going to explore in this lesson.

Objective

This is an elementary-to-intermediate course which provides an overview of Hong Kong and Asia Pacific region's AML regulatory frameworks of the Fintech industry.

Programme Outline

- Concepts of Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing
- Overview of the relevant AML ordinances, rules and guidelines
- Case studies (Hong Kong, Regional and International)

Target Audience

This course is mainly targeted to Individuals or professionals who will be or are involved in the AML area/process of the Fintech industry or those who are interested in this topic.

Speaker

The trainer is currently the Chief Operating Officer of a leading Fintech company and has over 15 years of experience in compliance, anti-money laundering and risk management. Prior to that, the trainer led different regional and local middle-to-back office functions in global financial institutions, e.g. Ant Financial, RBC Wealth Management, Royal Bank of Scotland, HSBC and BNP Paribas. The trainer started his career in Morgan Stanley and then moved to PricewaterhouseCoopers before joining the SFC as a regulator. The trainer is a ABP, AHKIB, MHKSI, TMA member and Chartered Banker of CIBS. The trainer graduated from the HKUST with first class honor and obtained law degrees from the CUHK and Tsinghua University. The trainer is also the holder of Master of Laws (LLM), Juris Master and Bachelor of Business.
